

The Theoretical Case for Taking American Exceptionalism Seriously

With

Hilde Restad

Add this event to your calendar

Tuesday, September 1, 2020
4:30 pm - 6:00 pm

Hilde Restad is an Associate Professor of International Studies at Bjørknes University College in Oslo, Norway. Before attaining her position as Associate Professor, she was Senior Research Fellow at the Norwegian Institute of International Affairs (NUPI). Her PhD is in Foreign Affairs, obtained from the University of Virginia in 2010. While there, she was a Fulbright Alumna. Her research interests cover American politics, U.S. foreign policy, American history and international relations. Her dissertation was on the concept of American exceptionalism understood as an identity, and its effect on historic U.S. foreign policy traditions. This was further developed in her first book, American Exceptionalism: An Idea that Made a Nation and Remade the World. Read her latest articles in Global Affairs and Texas National Security Review.

Read ahead

If you have problems adding the event to your calendar please use this link.

Password: 09012020

Have you been having trouble accessing our virtual events? Please let me know here, so we can try to circumvent any further issues.

Subscribe to our podcast!

 @ND_ISC